WHAT THE DATA SHOWS

- FOUR WAVES: Complaints cascade with predictable offsets | Pricing day +1, Delivery day +4, Quality & Fake day +10, Refund day +13 | this is a staffing schedule
- 8-DAY LAG: Delivery → Refund lag is stable across all seven sales | correlation 0.768 at lag 8 | refund desk should staff up ~1 week after the delivery surge
- UNEVEN SURGE: Sales multiply volume 4–5× but not uniformly | Delivery 4.3×, Refund 4.8×, Pricing 5×+ for only three days
- ANSWER RATE: 36.4% of complaints get no reply | on a public brand page this is the first metric to act on
- PRICING = COMMS: Pricing complaints peak the day before and the day the sale opens | fix with a prepared statement, not headcount

LIMITATIONS

- PRODUCTS: All 20 products sit in a 5.8–7.7% fake-product band with near-identical mixes | no product is riskier than another
- SENTIMENT: Only Negative and Neutral exist | Negative Share measures corpus composition, not brand health
- SAMPLE SIZE: One year, seven sales | enough to see the pattern, not to model it | quote 8 days as an observed median
- VOLUME: order_id is unique across all 54,270 rows | customer-name repeats are likely name-pool collisions
